Feature 1589 Analysis

Activation Distribution

Mean: 0.960 | Max: 1.344 | Std: 0.156 | Count: 15
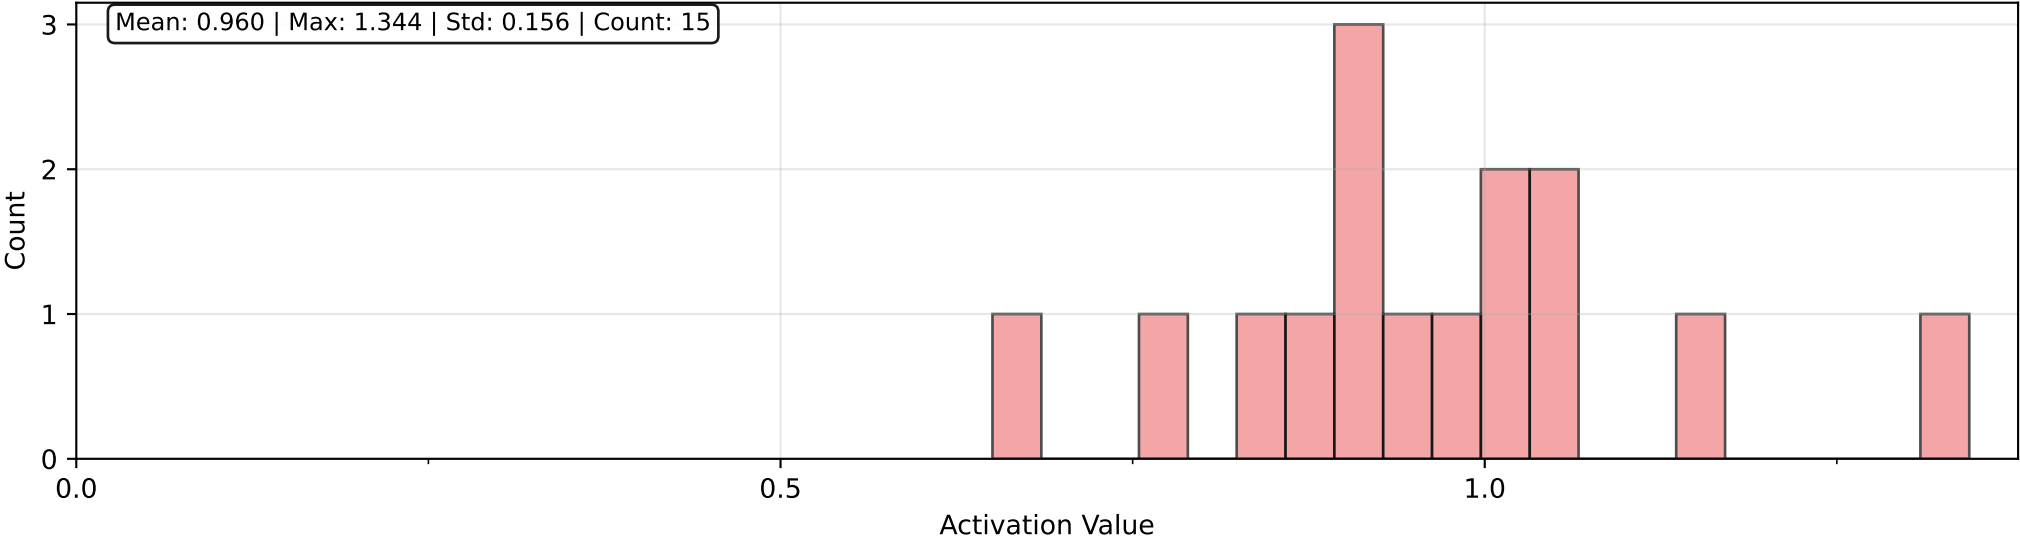

Feature Statistics

Sparsity: 0.999

Mean Activation: 0.740

Max Activation: 1.344

Decoder Norm: 1.000

Examples Found: 11

Context Around Peak Activations

Ex1 (1.344): parade finally ended , and everyone che ered . They all said goodbye to their friends , hugged each other , and thanked the parade

Ex2 (1.151): after a while , the girl saw a light . It was coming from a big house at the top

Ex3 (1.038): , he learned to be patient . He knew that good things come to those who wait . Finally , the

Ex4 (1.037): a tall hedge . It was big and blue and it seemed like it was hiding something . <unk> <unk> The girl wanted to know

Ex5 (1.018): The sun showed its face in the morning sky and it shone brightly . The birds flew up to the sky and sang their

Ex6 (1.013): all so excited to see the girl arrive . They all said hello and talked with her . <unk> <unk> The girl enjoyed talking with

Ex7 (0.983): taught the person about rain bows , explaining that all the colors came from the water in the sky . The person started to smile

Ex8 (0.931): <unk> <unk> When the show was over , Jack and Jane said goodbye to each other . They hugged , and then each went in

Ex9 (0.926): . They can play and talk and laugh . They do not care about the rain

Ex10 (0.926): . <unk> <unk> John always wanted someone to play with but there was nobody around . S igh ing , he decided he 'd find

Ex11 (0.923): weet , tweet , tweet ." <unk> <unk> L ily and Ben laugh . They say , " You are funny , bird . What